I'll crochet this granny square blanket for my best friend's baby daughter for Christmas. It was my first crochet project and couldn't be easier. I used the Red Heart thread in white, light pink & raspberry (1 7 ounces of skein each) and I used a crochet hook I/10. I did 3 rounds of each color, repeating 4 times. To complete the decorative tip, I single crocheted twice around the whole blanket, then double crocheted 5 times on each other single crochet. This granny square blanket consists of 30 granny squares... 6 squares each of 5 different color patterns. I put them out in a rotating sequence and then double crocheted the squares together. To finish, I single crocheted twice around the outer edge of the whole blanket. I used Red Heart Super Saver Threads in 3 different shades of green, and Aran. Follow the easy step-by-step instructions on how to make a beautiful baby blanket. Read more homemade games, as seen in the American TV show Baby. Put hexagons or pentagons together for a wonderful Afghanistan. When I was little, I often asked my mother about the matching colors. How do you know what's wrong with what? Wondered. Her answer was always the same: Look at nature, she would say, and the answer will be yours. As with many things in life, my mother was right. This necklace is dedicated to her, and to her ability to teach me that inspiration, like nature, is all around us. This necklace has a natural, organic feel, like someone wearing a tiny bouquet of flowers.
